Legality of Publication of Income Tax Payment Lists is Cause of Official Row

REVENUE BUREAU SAYS IT'S LEGAL

Treasury Officials Take Opposite View

BUCK IS PASSED

Courts May Be Called to Rule In Test

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The greatest confusion seen in Washington for many a day pervaded the treasury and justice departments today over whether income tax payment lists made public by the new tax law may be openly published.

Treasury officials were in sharp disagreement, heads of the department contending that publication would entail criminal proceedings under the law. Lawyers of the internal revenue bureau took exactly the opposite view.

Buck Is Passed.
At Secretary Mellon's office it was said the treasury considered it had done its duty by pointing out a statute it claimed made publication illegal despite the publicity clause in the new tax law. Any further action, it was said, would have to come from the department of justice.

At the internal revenue office, it was said counsel took the view that as the new tax law opened tax lists to public inspection, the lists became public property and could be published freely.

Attorney General Ahlert.
The department of justice seemed up in the air in the absence of Attorney General Stone out west. Solicitor General Beck, in charge, said he would start an investigation of the statutes, but did not intend to issue any ruling. It was indicated the question might not be decided outside the courts.

Justice precinct committee members from all over the country are attending the Beaumont meeting, members of the committee also comprising the county commissioners, Sabine District Industrial association and the county engineer.

H. M. Harwood, president of the San Jacinto Life Insurance company, Beaumont, is chairman of the committee, which was named at a convention of county road delegates held in the 60th district court rooms at Beaumont about two months ago.

SAYS AIR MAIL GOAL FEASIBLE

Dunn Says City Should Begin Systematic Endeavor

Port Arthur should begin at once in a systematic manner to arrange its claim for an airmail service terminal to be established here if it expects to get this big postal facility, Postmaster S. I. Dunn said today when asked concerning the possibilities of such a project.

Postmaster Dunn said agitation here of late for the aerial mail terminal had not emanated from the postoffice department and he had received nothing concerning it, officially or indirectly. Local military organizations, through appeals to divisions of the war department of this section, which have started movement for a mail terminal, have not worked through postal authorities, Dunn stated.

"I know nothing of the rumor a field may be established here. There is no doubt that air mail service is coming all over the country and Texas will not be left out. Port Arthur can well afford to start out now and work hard for such a line. It can be obtained in no other way," the postmaster said.

With Port Arthur as a terminal, air service via Houston to Fort Worth and Dallas, thus covering a major portion of Texas including strategic railway centers, would probably be a route if one were established, Dunn said.

MAN FALLS DOWN STAIRWAY, INJURED

Stumbling at the top of the stairs in the Wagoner building, in the 4th block on Procter street, a man giving the name of Joe Stanton, of Memphis, Tenn., plunged to the street and was severely and painfully injured about 10:30 a. m. today, it was reported at Mary Gates hospital, where Stanton was rushed in an ambulance summoned from the Granular establishment.

Stanton's injuries were confined to gashes about the head and face, and he was knocked unconscious for a few minutes, hospital authorities said.

BAD FLUE WARNING IS SOUNDED HERE

Dry weather followed by cold, which will necessitate building of fires again, may result in a number of fire calls from bad flues soon, members of the fire department predicted today.

Fires in stoves and fireplaces which have not been used since last winter will cause some trouble and fire heads are on the watchout to prevent any serious conflagrations in such instances.

Here Is Test of Bill Opening Tax Secrets

Here is the text of the provision in the revenue bill which opened up secrets of income tax lists: "That the commissioner (of internal revenue) shall as soon as practicable in each year cause to be prepared and made available to public inspection, in such manner as he may determine, in the office of the collector and in such places as he may determine, lists containing the name and the post office of each person making an income tax return in such district together with the amount of tax paid by such person."

DEFINITE ROAD PLAN EXPECTED

Committee of 15 Confers in Beaumont Today

Jefferson county's road committee of 15 assembled at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce in one of a series of preliminary road meetings which is expected to crystallize into a definite road improvement program in all sections of the county.

Justice precinct committee members from all over the country are attending the Beaumont meeting, members of the committee also comprising the county commissioners, Sabine District Industrial association and the county engineer.

H. M. Harwood, president of the San Jacinto Life Insurance company, Beaumont, is chairman of the committee, which was named at a convention of county road delegates held in the 60th district court rooms at Beaumont about two months ago.

MANSLAUGHTER

Louisiana Man Pleads Unwritten Law

MINDEN, La., Oct. 24.—A jury here early last night returned a verdict of manslaughter against C. C. Derrick, 26, who shot and killed Roger Haynes, 31, at Cotton Valley near here, last August. The jury recommended mercy for Derrick, Derrick's wife and Mrs. Madeline Davis, 20, who were jointly charged with Derrick, were freed.

Derrick pleaded the unwritten law in his defense, alleging that Haynes was attempting to break up his home. Mrs. Derrick and Mrs. Davis, who were friends of the Derriks, were insulted by Haynes shortly before the killing, the defense charged.

VICTORY

Irwin Satisfied With Race For Speaker

AUSTIN, Oct. 24.—Representative T. K. Irwin, of Dallas, who was in Austin Friday, said that the campaign in support of his candidacy for speaker of the 39th legislature was progressing satisfactorily, and that he had more than enough votes pledged to insure his election.

"In my race for speaker I am asking the support of all of the members of the house," said Mr. Irwin. "I want to represent everybody. I don't stand for any particular class. I am for all classes."

RESTRAINER

Injunction Asked to Prohibit Merger

EL PASO, Oct. 24.—A petition for a permanent injunction against the proposed merger of the El Paso and Southwestern system and the Southern Pacific lines was on file in the United States district court here today. The appeal was made by George H. Park and James F. Kilcrease as individuals, asking that the merger plan be set aside pending litigation. The petition charged the Southern Pacific lines was seeking a "monopoly" of transportation and that the proposed merger would be a violation of the Clayton anti-trust act. The case will be taken under advisement next week, it was indicated.

To Arrange Speaking Schedule for Pierce

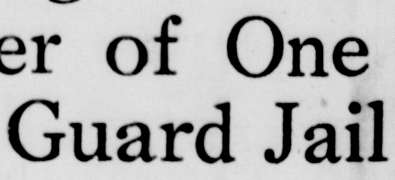

Mass meeting of all business interests in Port Arthur is called by the Retail Merchants' association for Monday morning at 10 to arrange for the entertainment and speaking schedule of Martin L. Pierce, national authority on salesmanship, who will be here for two days early next month.

It is planned to arrange Pierce's speaking schedule so that men, women and children of the city may hear at least one of the lectures.

WACO CITIZEN SLAIN BY MEXICAN BANDITS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Eugene Marcus Barn, 24, Waco, Texas, was slain by Mexican bandits near La Palma, State of Vera Cruz, on Oct. 21, the state department was told by the American consul at Tampico today. Robbery was said to have been the motive.

Efforts of Friends and Attorneys to Secure Clemency Fail, Threatened Jail Delivery Fails Also

By United Press.
MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 24.—Four men were hanged at daybreak for the murder of a pay car chauffeur during a hold up.

Tony Frank, erstwhile "king of the underworld," Louise Morel, Giuseppe Serafini and Frank Gimino were executed practically simultaneously at Bordeaux jail—despite every effort of their friends and attorneys to save their lives.

Hangs in Two.
The men who were hanged today were four of a gang of eight who planned and carried out the holdup of a pay car at Hochelaga on April 1 in which Henri Cloutier, the chauffeur of the car, was killed.

Morel and Gimino were hanged together, first, and the execution of Frank and Serafini followed five minutes later.

Morel died gamely, as had been expected. Gimino, who was only a hired gunman, whimpered slightly, but braced himself at the end as the noose was adjusted and kissed a crucifix.

Tony Frank seemed in a daze as his turn came and he and Serafini were hanged.

BOND ATTACK

MOTION FILED

Application for Rehearing Claims Errors by Court

Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, Oct. 24.—Motion for a rehearing in the case of H. M. Harris against the city of Port Arthur involving the million dollar bond issue was filed in the Ninth Court of Civil Appeals here this morning by Attorney P. G. Vaughan.

A decision favorable to the city was rendered by the court last Thursday.

The petition filed by Vaughan attempts to show the court erred on two points. The first was that the court erred in holding that Harris as a private citizen could not bring suit against the city. It also sets forth that the court erred in refusing to hold the ordinance on which the issue of the bonds was predicated void, since it contained no style or caption and was a violation of the city charter.

Whether or not the case will be heard again will be decided on next Wednesday or the week following.

Attorney Vaughan declared this morning that he was confident of winning his case against the city and stated that it would be carried to the supreme court if necessary.

First Gulf Export of No. 1 Hard Wheat in Years Expected Here

The first cargo of No. 1 hard winter wheat exported through any Gulf of Mexico port in many years went out of Port Arthur today on the Dutch steamship Bandoeng, clearing for Antwerp, Belgium, with 350,000 bushels of grain.

Grain shipments through Port Arthur this season have been unusually heavy, and other grain ships are expected to arrive here for cargoes, according to reports in marine circles. Agents for the Bandoeng were the John E. Jones company, with Fay Morgan as their Port Arthur representative.

TWO SHIPS ON WAY

Fuel Oil Cargo Ships Add to Port Totals

Initial exports of fuel oil from Port Arthur to Chile, South America, for the Chilean Exploration company, part of the Guggenheim interests, controlling extensive copper industries in Chile, are scheduled to be made this month on the British tankers Chucky, due Saturday or Sunday, and the Toco, scheduled to arrive October 28.

Word to this effect was given out today by John E. Jones, steamship agent, and Fay Morgan, Port Arthur representative of the Jones company. The Chucky will load cargo at the Texas Company, and the Toco at the Gulf company here, one of the vessels going to Antofagasta, and the other to Tocopilla.

Bring Extensive Business.
"These ships will be making their initial trips into Port Arthur, and it is likely their coming will be the forerunner of extensive business for the port," Jones said today.

"Formerly the Chilean Exploration company's fleet of vessels went into Tampico for cargoes of fuel oil, and while we have nothing definite concerning other tankers scheduled to load out at Port Arthur, I believe if conditions are satisfactory, others will make trips for fuel oil supplies."

Charles E. Kelly, vice president of the steamship department of the Chilean company, is the son of the operator of a line which handled the first miscellaneous freight cargoes out of Port Arthur 25 years ago, Jones said.

And investigating his case, immigration officials found Foulton, an alien and ordered his deportation. E. R. Dilworth, chief in charge of the Sabine district, said today. Pending a ship to send the lad back to Europe on, he is being held in the city jail, Dilworth said.

Foulton told immigration officials he had been in Cuba, and went from there to Savannah, Ga., as a stow-away, finally stowing away on another ship, landing at Galveston, and from there got to Port Arthur. His mother, he said, was French and Italian.

Citizenship Worried Him; Aid Is Asked

Dubious as to his citizenship whether of Spain, where he was born, or of France, where his parents took him as a lad 5 years old, Carlo Foulton, 18, asked U. S. immigration officials here to straighten him out.

MAJOR DALRYMPLE TO SPEAK HERE FOR MA

Major A. J. Dalrymple of Fort Worth, well known Texas politician and orator, will speak here in behalf of the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam Ferguson for governor at the corner of Fifth and Austin, Saturday night, beginning at 7:30, Ferguson leaders announced this morning.

Major Dalrymple, as a federal prohibition district enforcement officer, came into the national limelight in his "war" against whisky rings in Illinois. Coming from there to Texas he has taken part in numerous political struggles and is heralded as a hard-hitting speaker and an eloquent orator.

GRANT WRIT TO FORCE TRIAL ON $40,000 LIEN

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 24.—The supreme court Friday granted motion of John L. Cleveland and others for leave of file petition for mandamus to require Judge Irwin T. Ward, of the Johnson county district court, to try a case in which foreclosure of a $40,000 lien is involved, and to prohibit the Dallas county district court from trial of the case until the issues are finally determined.

COOLIDGE ADDRESS HEARD OVER RADIO

Address of President Calvin Coolidge, broadcasted from Washington, D. C. Thursday night, was heard in Port Arthur by P. E. Seckel and C. R. Smith, at their new radio supply store, the Southwest Radio Electric company, 527 Austin avenue, they said today.

The president was speaking to a convention of Chamber of Commerce officials in the national capital, and his words came in clearly and distinctly, managers of the radio store said. Other broadcasting stations on the Atlantic coast, in Cuba and Mexico also are heard over the receiving set, Seckel said.

DEMANDS THAT ALL ANNOUNCE POLITICAL STAND

Questionnaire Reveals Rift In County Ranks

'STAY PUT OR RESIGN'

White, Nominee, Challenges Club's Methods

Further rifts in the Jefferson county lute became known today when party nominees for county office and members of the democratic executive committee today received questionnaires headed by the "Jefferson County Democratic Club."

The questionnaire, on stationery which bears the club name and the names of 25 men as officers and committee members, demands that democratic officials and nominees take their stand for the party ticket and vote it straight "from president down to constable."

Cites Resolution.
The questionnaire, signed by C. E. Pool as secretary, states a resolution was adopted in a meeting at the Beaumont court house night of Oct. 18, last. The resolution is included in the questionnaire.

The communication demands of the candidates to state if they are going to support all the party nominees without a single variation and to reply to the committee.

To the members of the county executive committee who are believed not supporting the ticket to the letter the resolution states: "It is the sense of the club that he should resign from said committee and his place be filled by some true democrat."

One reply to the club's questionnaire was made

ELECTION WRITS ARE PREPARED

Ready To Be Delivered To County Judges

BEAUMONT, Texas, Oct. 24.—Writs of election were prepared this morning to be delivered to election judges and will be served by Sheriff Tom Garner before election day. The writs direct the presiding judges at each of the precincts to open the polls. There are no changes in the judges appointed by commissioners court in February and in case any of the judges named then are unable to serve, the sheriff can deliver the writs of election to any other voter in the precinct and direct him to hold the election.

ASK WRIT TO CLOSE DANCE HALL

BEAUMONT, Texas, Oct. 24.—Application for an injunction to close a dance hall at Port Neches was filed in the 60th district court here this morning by Charles Macha, complaining against John Fusilier.

Macha stated he lived with his wife and children in Port Neches in part of the town used for residential purposes and that his home was located on the corner of Avenue A and Montgomery street in the Bigelow addition.

The dance hall is located directly across the street from his home and he declared that the music played there and the noises were so loud that members of his family could not sleep at night. Judge Campbell has not as yet taken action on the injunction.

K-P'S TO BANQUET DISTRICT CHAMPS

BEAUMONT, Texas, Oct. 24.—Plans have been made by the local Knights of Pythias lodge to entertain the winning football team of this district on the first Thursday in November. A banquet will be held at the K. of P. hall followed by a dance. Schools at Beaumont, Port Arthur and South Park are included in this district.

County Poultrymen to Effect An Organization

Formation of a poultry association to incorporate the entire Sabine district will probably be started here next week by poultry enthusiasts of this section to have the support of the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping, it was announced today.

A poultry association has been in the making here for some time. The fair, which closed last week stimulated interest in the movement and showed the need of organization. C. K. DeBusk of the chamber staff who is working on the poultry plans, said today.

All cities and rural centers in the Sabine district will be asked to become a part of the organization. County Farm Agent Eisentraut of Beaumont is helping in the movement.

COLLEGE HEADS FAVOR DEFENSIVE WARFARE

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 24.—A survey conducted by Garland W. Powell, director of the Americanization commission of the American Legion, indicates that American college presidents are opposed to extreme pacifism, but favor the prevention of war through an association of nations, the Legion announced here Sunday night.

Inquiries were sent to presidents of 145 colleges and universities. Replies have been received from 87. Educators believe that the nation should not engage in offensive war but feel that, in the present international situation, the country should be prepared for an emergency and should be supported to the limit by its citizens against an aggressor.

LAYS BLAME FOR WAR TO INTRIGUE

Chinese Christian General Accuses Wu Pei Fu

PEKIN, Oct. 24.—The "greatest crime in modern times was the intrigue that caused the present war in northern China," Marshal Feng Yuh Hsiang, famed Christian general, whose 10,000 fighting men—the best in China—hold the capital today, said in an interview with the United Press after his capture.

"Leaders of China have decided war must end for all time. That's why we have acted and seized the city."

"It was criminal of Wu Pei Fu to send half clad, half starved soldiers in no condition for warfare to fight against the Manchurians."

3 DROWN, 2 RESCUED AS AUTO PLUNGES

GENEVA, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Three men were drowned and two women rescued after an automobile crashed through an embankment rail at a curve and plunged into a canal today.

The machine, with its side curtains tightly fastened, turned over, landing upside down in the canal.

Frank Tower, Edward Parish and Harold Dewey were drowned.

Mrs. Ida Tower and Miss Annie Aslop were rescued.

GERMANY FAVORS LA FOLLETTE'S ELECTION

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—The average German's interest in the American elections centers on the question of the probable effects upon the treaty of Versailles, with the tariff secondary. Since Senator La Follette has said he favors revision of the Versailles treaty, most Germans favor Senator La Follette.

WALL STREET JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—President Coolidge's advocacy of lower taxes and Judge Gary's description of the steady improving conditions in the steel industry together with an extraordinary showing in the weekly general reserve statement supplied the ground work for another constructive demonstration on the stock exchange today.

Under the leadership of the higher grade issues listed on the big board, the forward movement made considerable progress.

CHARGES PANIC IS THREATENED

Bob Claims Plot Against His Election

DETROIT, Oct. 24.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, candidate for president, today challenged Wall Street to "produce a panic with the penitentiary staring it in the face."

Charging that "big interests" are threatening a panic should he be elected, La Follette issued a statement as he passed through Detroit, en route to Syracuse, N. Y., where he speaks tonight.

"It is being whispered about by bankers, railroad operators, industrial trusts and the press controlled by them, that should La Follette be elected there would be a panic, that credit would be shortened and that banks would withdraw their support to business," the independent candidate asserted.

"This is the old bluff that has been used at this stage of every campaign in which there was a real issue."

"I don't question the power of Wall Street to produce a panic, but I do challenge their courage to put through the conspiracy which they proclaim, with the penitentiary staring them in the face."

"If I am elected president, as I fully expect to be, and this wicked thing is done or attempted, the department of justice with all its agencies of investigation will be instructed to bring this crime against a free people face to face with summary justice. The punishment shall be swift and sure."

"The department of justice will be instructed to indict and bring to trial any man—no matter how powerful he may be—who has been guilty of attempt to use his power over the money and credit resources of America, not only to wreck business, but to influence men's votes by intimidation or bribery in any form."

DAVIS BACK TO AWAIT ELECTION

Stump Ended, Candidates to Recuperate Now

EN ROUTE WITH DAVIS TO NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Back to the heart of the east, John W. Davis came today to concentrate his campaign until election day.

Tonight he will sleep at home in Locust Valley and tomorrow begin a whirl around New York City which will lead him up to the final wire.

Democratic leaders acclaim his 15-day tour of the midwest a complete success. They believe his trip has accomplished a strengthening of the border states of Missouri, Tennessee and Kentucky which will assure him a safe majority in each of the three.

MEN'S CHURCH CLUB WILL GIVE DINNER

The Men's Club of the Congregational church will entertain with a dinner Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock on the mezzanine floor of Fuller's cafe. Prominent speakers from New York and Chicago will address the men on this occasion. Thirty members of the club are expected to be in attendance.

The Letter Box

I notice that the political activities of the preachers were denounced in a political meeting at Eighth street and Waco avenue Tuesday night by J. E. Rose of Port Arthur and James A. Harrison and Steve King of Beaumont.

I have no inclination to defend the preachers of Port Arthur and Jefferson county for they are simply able to take care of themselves when attacked by the class of politicians these men represent, but I want to say for myself that I am a political preacher. When it comes to taking a stand for good morals, clean politics, honest government and the enforcement of all laws.

I was a citizen and a democrat before I was a preacher and when I was ordained to the ministry I did not renounce my citizenship or democracy. I have worn the "brass collar" of the democratic party for 30 years and have been proud of it and have never voted any other ticket, but my loyalty and love for my country surpassed my loyalty and love for the democratic party and I will not permit any set of politicians to blindfold me and lead me to the polls to vote for a woman whose main platform is to vindicate her husband who, like Judas, betrayed the good people of Texas and sold the influence of the highest office in the gift of the people to the brewers association for $250,000, and a man that has bolted the democratic party and has repeatedly said in his public utterances "To hell with the democratic party."

This is one time that I am going to vote for the man regardless of party affiliations. It was also stated in that meeting that the Klan had been sold to the G. O. P. like cattle. I wonder where they got this information? I am sure if they have been sold out they were not bought with money put up by the brewers association. But that is some more of their political rot. The Ferguson crowd would have bought the Klan out if they had been for sale and I notice that the Judas Iscariot preacher that advocates anti-prohibition and denounces the Klan is popular with this bunch and his statements are published in all the papers as propaganda for the anti crowd. It is all right for a preacher to have his say about politics provided he is on their side of the fence.

I would love to see Judge Rose and his fellow politicians lead a procession of their friends up Procter street. It would be indeed an interesting sight. "Birds of a feather flock together."

This preacher is not ashamed of the crowd he is with or the principles for which he stands. He will live and die on the side of the fence that the preachers, churches and the clean crowd is on, regardless of the denunciation of Judge Rose and his crowd. REV. J. F. DOBBS, Port Arthur, Texas, Oct. 24, 1924.

REVIVAL HERE FINDS INTEREST

Rev. Reagan to Deliver Special Sermon Tonight

Greater interest in the revival being conducted at the Church of Christ, 1901 Sixth street, by Rev. J. I. Reagan, of Dallas, than in any previous revival ever held in the church is reported today by Rev. L. E. Carpenter, pastor.

At the close of the preaching service Thursday night, two people were baptised. Several attended the services from Beaumont, and the morning services are averaging an attendance of 75. Rev. Carpenter said. Special work in the revival is being carried on by over 100 men and women, the pastor said.

The sides of the tabernacle have been boarded up, and a stove set up to insure comfort for the congregations attending the revival services, Rev. Carpenter said.

CULP DELIVERS FORCEFUL TALK

Preaches at Memorial Baptist Revival

Using the incident of the healing of the paralytic at Capernaum as the foundation of his sermon, Dr. C. W. Culp delivered a forceful sermon on "A Sick Sinner Saved" at the revival service at Memorial Baptist tabernacle, Sixteenth and Shreveport avenue, last night. Two additions to the church were made last night and many expressed their interest in regard to their salvation. Rev. J. F. Dobbs, pastor of Memorial church, said today.

The revival service is growing in interest, according to Rev. Dobbs, who said that the meeting will continue through the next week. An invitation is extended the people of Port Arthur to attend the services.

Scandal Probe Pushed In Doheny Lease Case

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—Testimony taken before the senate investigating committee last January during the oil scandal probe will be presented in federal court here today by government counsel, seeking to dissolve the Elkhills naval reserve leases granted E. L. Doheny's Pan-American Oil companies.

Introduction of the evidence was approved by Federal Judge McCormick late yesterday, following an afternoon of arguments by opposing attorneys, those representing Doheny seeking to prevent the move. The court's ruling was considered a striking blow for the government.

Clears Complexion

"Oh! how clear and beautiful your complexion is today, my dear!"

THERE IS a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved for attractiveness—that clear skin—that beauty. A clear skin—is the barometer of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clear blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1826 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, boils, eczema and from rheumatism, too. Because S.S.S. is made from fresh herbs and barks, it may be taken with perfect safety. Try it yourself. You will not only look better, but you will feel better, too.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

CLUBS
A news item reports that there is a considerable decline in men's clubs. This is as it should be, for a club is about the dreariest place in the world. It has been described as an institution kept up by a thousand men for the benefit of ten bachelors. The club was doubtless originally designed as a man's refuge from women.

As women are becoming more like men, and indulging nowadays in the same callings that men indulge in, men no longer want to escape.

They like to have the women at ways about the place. One cannot imagine why it was the men ever wanted to escape from them.

Men, when they are together, discuss their food, their work, with an unwholesome solemnity. But to lunch even in the cheapest hotel or restaurant, is to mingle with humanity in its healthiest and most cheerful mood.

Lunch, in a city club, is one of the most boring and dreary ceremonies imaginable. Men in clubs talk lugubriously in undertones. In restaurants there are laughter and romance. The office is forgotten, the recreation is complete. Staid men and women lose, temporarily, their aging lines and the lack-lustre look in their eyes gives way to a genuine sparkle as they mingle with the fresh faces of young lovers, snatched from precious moments over their food.

The club is an excess of the class idea. It is the endeavor of one kind of people to get away from the other kind. It is a phase of the instinct to escape from humanity. But there is no real joy that is not a part of humanity and a man finds out, sooner or later, that happiness runs vertically through all strata and is not confined to a single class.

TEXAS NEEDS LOWER RATES ON MATERIALS FOR ROAD BUILDING

A movement to save Texas taxpayers hundreds of thousands of dollars each year and at the same time to expedite the building of permanent roads has been started by the Texas Highway association, and the assistance of the state highway department has been solicited.

The plan, as laid before the highway commission, if put into operation, would bring other highly beneficial results, along with its highly desirable objective.

Texas freight rates on crushed rock and gravel used in road building is 57 per cent higher than the rates for the same distances in Louisiana and Oklahoma, President W. E. Lea of the highway commission pointed out. Crushed granite, for which the producers receive 50 cents per cubic yard in the Llano-Burnet district, is assessed a $3 per cubic yard freight rate to Orange, Texas, according to data furnished by Mr. Lea. The result of this is that the business of producing road materials is virtually paralyzed, and the roads that are built cost from $1,500 to $3,000 per mile more for gravel, and from $3,000 to $10,000 per mile, more than if Texas freight rates were in harmony with those of adjoining states.

At lower freight rates, greater quantities of road materials would move. This would restore a degree of prosperity to those sections, such as Llano, which produce building materials, and would improve business in many other lines, along with the gravel pits and rock crushing plants.

With these materials moving in much greater volume, Texas shortline railroads would benefit. At present, if larger rail systems are able to handle the tonnage in other states for less than half the Texas rate, it seems that Texas people and Texas business interests are not getting the best possible deal.

It is to be hoped the situation will have prompt attention and energetic action on the part of these Texas agencies which have the power to correct what appears to be both a bar to the expansion of the state highway system and an impediment to the prosperity of one principal and numerous allied and interdependent industries.

WALL STREET GOT HIM

Page George R. Christian of New York. He has been away from the city for forty days and his wife does not know where to find him. He was the active and confidential partner in the New York Stock Exchange, house of Day and Heaton, a moss covered firm that had been in business fifty years.

George R. had been admitted as a member of the firm four years ago. He had the confidence of all. He was a man of high integrity and noble purpose. He always said so and his associates believed him. It is sad to relate that a defalcation of more than $1,500,000 from the firm makes the disappearance of George R. a bit suspicious.

Now they are asking what did he do with the money. Now his wife is asking why George R. did not provide for her before he made his get-away. Now Wall Street is asking why a former president of the New York Stock Exchange permitted a confidential partner to give him the hook and get away with millions.

Well, this partner said, "let George do it." George did it and now his concern is in the hands of a receiver and George is hiding out somewhere until the broken partners have recovered from the shock. It must be true that man is made to mourn.

CHIDED BY HIS CHIEF

General Charles Gates Dawes has been chided by his chief. In his opening speech in Nebraska in August General Dawes said until production is brought more nearly in line with consumptive demand there can be no permanent betterment in the agricultural situation. He declared against continuation of reclamation projects fostered by the government in the mountain states for the reason, he said, "We are already seriously embarrassed by over production in many lines."

This played havoc with the republican cause in the mountain states of the west. Republican farmers deserted the ticket in droves. Now the president is at odds with the Dawes policy on reclamation. This is his last word:

"It is my purpose to unremittently stimulate and encourage the development of these great projects by every authority of the federal government. A country growing so fast in population as is our own, can not limit its consideration to immediate necessities. Many people now living will see this a country of two hundred million inhabitants. The national interest will be served by promoting the widest diffusion of population."

The vice presidential tail does not wag the presidential dog.

The Affair at Flower Acres

©1924 by NIA Service Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
The body of Douglas Raynor is found in the ear of a woman in the room at Flower Acres, his long island home. Standing over the dead man, pistol in hand, is Malcolm Finley, former sweetheart of Raynor's wife, Nancy. Eva Turner, Raynor's nurse, stands by the door with her hand on the light switch. In a moment Nancy appears, white-faced and terrified. She looks at the body of her husband, then at Malcolm Finley, and then at Eva Turner. She enters upon the scene. "I don't think I did," she says. "Then Mrs. Raynor did it," accuses Miss Turner. "Before I could get the light on I saw you both—now Goddard goes toward the stricken man. Perhaps Raynor isn't dead," he says.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"Yes, he's dead," Goddard said, after a brief examination. "I think the woman should go to their rooms—or, at least, away from here."

But none of the women would do this, and as Miss Mattie showed signs of faintness, Eva Turner rushed away and returned with refreshments.

"Hafstead," Ezra Goddard said, giving his orders curtly, "call the family doctor—you know his number?" "Oh, yes, sir," and the butler disappeared.

"Did you shoot Raynor, Malcolm?" was the next question. "No," said Finley, but his face was so drawn with shock and sorrow that his word carried no clear conviction.

"Then what are you doing with that pistol?" "I—I picked it up—as I came in—look here, Goddard, it's none of your business."

"Oh, yes, it is—I'm making it my business. Have you no more to say?" "No more," said Malcolm Finley. "I have," said the nurse. "It was either Mr. Finley or Mrs. Raynor who fired that shot!"

CHAPTER IV
Detective Jobbins
If Ezra Goddard had followed the son, he would have been the sort of sailor who is dubbed able seaman. If he had chosen the ministry as a career, he would have been known as an eminent divine. Had he pitched on the legal profession he would have been spoken of as a noted lawyer. Or, if he had been an author, he would most certainly have attained the rank of celebrated novelist.

Moreover, if he had bent his talents and energies to the science of detective work, he would have been rapidly to the height of Tra-scent Detective, and would have become famous.

But detective he was not, for though a past master of the necessary perspicacity and pliancy, he had had no training or experience, and knew little or nothing of finger-print work or of third-degree practice.

So it was really owing more to his inherent generalship than to his detective ability that he stepped forward and assumed control of the entire situation.

His efficient aid in emergency was well known, and within fifteen minutes of the discovery of Douglas Raynor's death, Goddard had sent word to the family physician, the county medical examiner and the local police. And within an hour they had all arrived.

Peter Saxton, a man first. Though he was the family physician, he had been called to Flower Acres for the first time in his life. He was in the household. When Douglas Raynor began to get fairly about his diet, he sought advice from various well advertised books, and later, had decided on the employment of a resident dietitian. Miss Turner was by no means the first of these. And she was merely the present incumbent, and was already slated for dismissal by her patient.

But, being present, and being a graduate nurse, Doctor Saxton was "naturally" spoke to her professionally, and seemed to rely on her assistance.

She came to him tremblingly, and with an obvious aversion to touching or even looking at the dead body of her late patient.

"Shot through the heart," the doctor said, after a brief investigation. "Who did it?"

To this direct question there was no answer. Miss Turner compressed her lips into a straight, unsmiling line, while the others, present, who were huddled round the sides of the sun room, gave only aghast, wondering looks at the doctor.

Held in some fascination of horror, they had all remained in the presence of the dead. Goddard and Saxton, and the rest had merely stood.

Nancy, her hand clasped in her brother's, was half-reclining in a long chair, while Miss Mattie sat bolt upright, eagerly watching every thing that transpired.

Malcolm Finley sat, with folded arms and a calm, inscrutable face. His gray eyes moving slowly from the dead victim of the tragedy to the living wife and back again.

From his scrutiny of the first face and contorted muscles of Raynor Doctor Saxton at last lifted a puzzled counterpane to the group of anxious spectators.

"There are strange conditions here," he said, "most peculiar, inexplicable conditions. Had Douglas Raynor any enemies?"

He glanced around the room, and as no one else spoke, Ezra Goddard said:

"In view of the fact that someone shot and killed him, I think we may logically assume that he had."

The tinge of irony was slight, but quite enough to annoy the doctor. "Not at all, sir. It is perfectly possible that a shooting might have been an accident, or a suicide."

"Oh, was it?" Do you think that? "No," he replied, in jerky accents as if surprised but not displeased at this suggestion.

IN CHOOSING A LOCATION FOR A HOME—

CONSIDER

IN CHOOSING A LOCATION FOR A HOME four factors should be carefully considered before the price is considered.

The factors to be considered are:

1. Convenience. This includes accessibility to the place of business and to other activities in which you may wish to engage. Don't buy a place which seems reasonable only to find that it will take $30 for car fare to and from work.

2. Respectability. This needs no discussion.

3. Equipment. This includes the facilities of the location as regards water, gas, light—the 'improvements.'

4. Adjacent facilities. These include the proximity of schools, if you have children, markets, supply stores, tools, store of material, etc.

When these four things have been investigated and found satisfactory, the problems of financing comes into existence. In looking over various financing plans, pay particular attention to the Building and Loan plan—it is a most excellent one. (Copyright, Associated Editors, Inc.)

Trend of Fashion Turning Toward Plain Shoe; Heels To Play Important Part

FOLLOWING on the heels of Fashion come the new evening shoes! Heels play an important part this season, as they form the decoration to the shoe in many cases. This is particularly so of the dancing slipper, where the heels may be the only decoration on the plain pump of gold or silver kid.

For street wear some of the most fashionable shops are displaying shoes with heels which are ornamented with colored floral designs in keeping with fall colorings. The heels of such shoes are made of kid and the ornamentation in colors is done in pyroglyphs. Very rich greens and browns and reds are the colors used to depict leaves and berries and other naturalistic designs. Often the toe of the shoe also shows sprays of color to correspond with heel decoration. These shoes have not yet made their appearance on Port Arthur streets but they are so attractive that mildy of fashion will soon be seen stepping forth in them and her lovely new fall frock in harmonizing shades.

Heels on dancing slippers and on bridal slippers are becoming more ornate than ever before. Jeweled heels are being used on silver and gold brocade for dancing and heels jeweled to represent cupid's bows and lover's knots are shown the bride's footwear.

Shoes have become quite as important as hats. One shoe that only if they correspond in color and type to the frock with which they are to be worn. The trend of fashion is turning towards plain shoes. Plain pumps and the absence of complicated straps mark the season's styles. The one-strap shoe will remain in favor and side buckles covered with leather are a new note. For dressy afternoon wear plain pumps ornamented with small buckles are sometimes chosen. For street wear tan calf skin or black or tan calf skin trimmed in suede is very popular. The Cuban heels is generally shown on these walking shoes. Opera pumps are worn for both afternoon wear and for evening wear, although for evening purposes they are usually ornamented with large buckles.

Satin shoes are being sold for dress-wear almost entirely. A new light brown shade called "sparrow" makes a splendid combination for the dressy afternoon street gown of brown. There are higher satin shoes topped with blond satin which are made in plain pump styles to accompany the dressy frock of the season. It is forecasted that satin shoes will come into vogue again for evening wear where they will match the shade of the frock. As to evening slippers, silver tones will predominate with silver kid leading over brocade.

Those who like the brogue shoe will find many models in plain pump and oxford effect in the fall collection. Browns and browns are among the leading costume colors and for this reason we find the return of all types of brogue shoes.

Hostess matches the shoes or corresponds in color if not in exact shade this season. Light tan wood shades and light cinnamon browns are worn more than any other colors, both with brogue shoes and with black shoes. Silver toned hostess is chosen for evening wear by most women, although there are a few who prefer a slight pinkish cast in their evening hostess.

Fifty Women In Attendance At Golden Jubilee

Commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the Women's United Missionary Society, the members of the Missionary Society of the First Christian church entertained with a most delightful affair Wednesday afternoon at the church. Fifty women were in attendance at this pleasing affair.

"Achievements of the Golden Jubilee" was the subject of the afternoon's program, which was rendered in the church parlors with Mrs. C. E. Perry presiding. The rooms were attractively decorated for the occasion.

After a short business session at which time Mrs. S. M. Vaughn presided, Mrs. R. D. Dumphrey led the devotional service, and Mrs. Perry gave a short introductory talk. Mrs. J. P. Innes told of the achievements of the Golden Jubilee, stating that the women throughout the United States had raised more than $1,012,000 for missionary work, $302 of which was raised by the local women.

Miss Maurine Sutherland entertained the members with a pleasing reading, "Sister's Beau," following which Mrs. R. D. Brown sang a lovely solo with piano accompaniment by C. N. Rier. Miss Jessie Patterson, who has recently returned from a summer's tour with Chautauque, gave a delightful reading, "What's Under Your Hat?" which was enthusiastically received by the women. Miss Patterson's number concluded the program.

A social hour followed and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. W. E. Clinton, Mrs. John Steiner and Mrs. W. M. Steel.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO RUTH BURKE

Well, it's all over, dear Ruth. With which we surrounded our dead when we put them away from our sight forever, dear old dad, who loved and lived life so fully, has been laid to rest.

The pusey-footed men from the undertaker's shop, with their maddening airs of sympathy; the over-powerful scent of tuberoses and lilies of the valley; the stifling pall of crepe veils; the barrowing notes of music; and the long sermon wherein the minister drew a moral for the unregenerate from the blameless life of my father, have gone into oblivion.

Poor, dear mother! Never before did I realize how terrible are our funeral ceremonies. I sat beside her with her trembling hand in mine, and felt her shrink and shudder when the hymn began. I heard her suppressed sobs as the minister referred to her as "the widowed and forlorn."

It seemed to me that all this was like striking a knife into a gaping wound and turning it around.

Then the great line of motor cars filled with business friends and acquaintances of my father, the marching men of the different societies of which he was a member, and the automobile filled with flowers. Perhaps it all was necessary. Perhaps all this was paying respect to my father's good deeds, but to me it was ostentatious and unnecessary.

As we left the house, mother whispered to me: "Have all the flowers possible sent to the hospital, dear, so at least some poor, tortured living being will be gladdened by the sight and odor of blossoms that were given to honor lifelike clay."

As we entered the cemetery, we met another procession headed by a band playing a funeral dirge. Following were vehicles with flowers, then innumerable motor cars filled with men, women and children. All these were poorly dressed, and John remarked: "What a pathetic thing! Some poor woman is giving all this 'insurance' money" to pay proper respect to her man."

Mother looked up with the gleam of interest she had shown in anything outside of her grief and her own family since dad's death, and as we descended from the motor she glanced toward the cheaper part of the cemetery, where about an open grave stood a group of people, evidently foreigners, while the band still played dolefully.

Then her own grief overpowered her, and Karl had to fairly carry her to the place reserved for the last rites of all.

When it was all over and we returned to the house from which all signs of death and dissolution had already been banished, mother was immediately to her room. I knew she wanted to be alone.

John began to plan about getting back to his business, and how quickly he could move to take charge of father's. Just then mother came in and said: "Leslie, I've been thinking of that other poor woman we saw at the cemetery today, and I want someone to go immediately and find out if it is true that she has paid out all her little hoard to give her husband a grand funeral. If that is so, have someone pay all those expenses for her. I cannot bear to have her suffer more than is necessary."

I took my dear mother in my arms and kissed her. She may not be scientifically philanthropic, Ruth, but she's a regular human being. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

Flowers Evangelistic Party to Open Revival at First M. E. Church South Here Sunday

PRELIMINARY DETAILS MADE

All Arrangements Worked Out For Big Meeting

Headed by Rev. R. L. Flowers, the Flowers Evangelistic Party of Dallas will open a two-weeks' revival at the First Methodist church south, Sunday morning, October 26.

The evangelistic party, secured by Rev. V. A. Godbey, pastor of the church, and his board, is composed of R. L. Flowers, evangelist, Mrs. R. L. Flowers, special worker, and A. J. Flowers, brother of the evangelist and advance representative who will take part during the meeting as a Sunday school organizer.

Leading Revival Workers

The Flowers party are said by Rev. Godbey and others to be among the leading evangelistic workers in the Southern Methodist church, and in the past 10 years, they are said to have secured more than 25,000 professions of faith in their meetings. Up to date this year, their record points to between 3,000 and 4,000 conversions in their revivals.

The evangelists are just concluding a lengthy revival in the Brantly Baptist church of Baltimore, one of the largest institutions in Maryland.

Party Has Features

Unlike many revival campaign leaders, the Flowers party claims a distinct feature which in itself will be an unique part of the meeting to be conducted here. This feature will be conducted by A. J. Flowers, and will incorporate the Sunday school special work of increasing attendance and augmenting interest in the Sunday school classes. Mr. Flowers has been in Port Arthur practically all of this week arranging for the revival and lining up his Sunday school forces for a great gathering beginning Sunday.

The Flowers are native Texans. From ranch life in the great empire state and rearing under the shadow of the Alamo, Rev. Flowers has risen to be recognized as one of the country's leading evangelists. It is said of him.

Evangelist Flowers was born 15 miles from a railroad, where he lived until he was 15 years of age. He worked his way through school. After two years in the pastorate ten years ago.

The enthusiasm of Rev. Flowers is contagious, it is said, and his messages are full of pep.

From Texas Cotton Field

One member of the Flowers party, Mrs. R. L. Flowers, wife of the evangelist, will give her first lecture of the revival on Sunday afternoon. Her subject will be "The Devil's Pitfalls for Boys and Girls of Port Arthur."

For 10 years Mrs. Flowers has been studying the young people's problems. She has a message for the married people of Port Arthur, Dr. Godbey says.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared on a cotton farm in Texas. Being one of a large family, and her father having been a pioneer she knew the privation and hardship incident of farm life. She shared the work of the farm and knows what it is to work in the fields. She tells many interesting experiences of picturesque farm life.

Sunday Schools Helped

A. J. Flowers, advance man of the party, has been in religious work 15 years. For 10 years he was boys' secretary in Y. M. C. A. work in four of the large cities of the south, and for the past five years he has been director of religious education in the First Baptist church in Houston. He is familiar with every phase of Sunday school work and while in Port Arthur will meet with the Sunday school workers in a series of meetings, helping to make the school a more efficient organization.

The Methodist church in America was formally organized as the Methodist Episcopal church at a Christmas conference in the city of Baltimore in 1784.

First M.E. Church Departments Found Well Organized Here

Class Plan Tabooed As New System Invoked to Put Church on Map as Big Leader Here

The First M. E. church, South, is in a better state of organization than it has been in its entire history according to records. Every department of the church is organized, and are being mobilized for a bigger and better church.

The Sunday school has been changed from the "class" to that of the departmental plan. The aim of the church is to make the Sunday school 100 per cent efficient. To reach every man, woman and child that should be in the school and maintain them in its classes. G. K. Lomax is superintendent and under his leadership the Sunday school is attaining the highest possible standard of efficiency.

Divided Into Units

The school is divided into the Adult, Young Peoples', Intermediate, Senior, Junior, Primary and Beginners' departments.

In the Adult department there are two classes: The Banker Bible class conducted by H. F. Banker and one conducted by Mrs. John R. Adams. The Banker class is the largest in the entire school having an enrollment of 151 and has very materially added to the efficiency of the school. During this past year the class paid $200 to the building fund, $200 toward the support of Jewell Burns at the Methodist Orphanage at Waco, $150 toward the church piano and $47.50 to the purchase of a wheel chair for the hospital. The class has as its goal a membership of 500.

The adult class conducted by Mrs. Adams is for young people between the ages of 20 and 35, both married and single. The class has an enrollment of 104 and has a high standard of efficiency.

Young Peoples' Work

In the young peoples' department there are two classes. A class taught by Mrs. J. W. Barron and one directed by Mrs. D. A. Daigle. The Barron class has an enrollment of 30 and an average attendance of 29. They have made several donations to the building fund and the missionary activities of the church. The class taught by Mrs. Daigle has an enrollment of 28 and an average attendance of 23. The boys of the class have been very active in the promotion of church work. One of its members, Leon Unger, recently entered the ministry and is now regular pastor at Voth and Roganville. Besides substantial donations to the building fund, the class has made is planning to make this the biggest and most efficient department of the school. The teachers in this department include Mrs. R. L. Rutan, Mrs. S. R. Nick, Miss Ann Welch, L. G. Derrick, Mrs. J. C. Hamilton and Mrs. S. D. Leverette.

The Junior department has Mrs. F. L. Teuton as its head. In this department there are 140 on roll with an average attendance of 100. The teachers are Miss Rita Marie Thompson, Mrs. A. McClintock, Mrs. A. E. Scott, Miss Evaline Curry, Mrs. Benedixen, Miss Mildred Saxon, Miss Verna Sandlin, Mrs. H. H. Brown, Mrs. J. E. Singletary, Mrs. Hightower, Mrs. Leonard Fisher, Mrs. H. G. Johnson and R. J. Brown.

Mrs. W. H. Crum is general superintendent of the elementary grades, including the Primary and Beginners department. Mrs. Gordon Smith is superintendent of the primary department and Mrs. W. D. Rhinehardt, superintendent of the beginners department.

The Primary Work

The teachers in the Primary department are Mrs. H. P. Banker, Miss Charles Bonner, Miss Eva Atkinson, Miss Ruby Ward, Miss Myrtle Eichen, Miss Darlington, Mrs. Joe Loper, Mrs. Peveo, Mrs. H. A. James, Miss Katherine Wall, Mrs. Fuller, Miss Thornton and Mrs. C. W. Hasking. This department has an enrollment of 119 and an average attendance of 75.

Epworth League

There are five leagues fully organized and affiliated with the general league organization in the church here.

SPECIAL CLASS WORKER HERE

Public Invited to Attend Sunday School Meetings

Each evening during the revival at the First M. E. Church, at 7:15 o'clock, A. J. Flowers will conduct meetings for the teachers and officers of the Sunday School, any one in Port Arthur interested in Sunday school work is invited to attend these meetings. The first of the series will be held Monday October 27 on the first floor of the church building. Subjects discussed at these meetings will include:

- "How to build a great Sunday school."
- "Making the Sunday school social program effective."
- "Financing the Sunday school and church."
- "Plans and program for a weekly teachers' meeting."
- "Contests, and how to conserve their results."
- "The use of special days in building a great Sunday school."
- "The soul winning Sunday school."

Houston Minister Praises A. J. Flowers

Rev. Jas. B. Leavell of Houston, who was in Port Arthur last year in a meeting with the Baptist church, says of A. J. Flowers:

"Mr. Flowers was intimately associated with me for a period of five years as Sunday school superintendent and conductor in all the affairs of the church. During that time our Sunday school grew from a position of almost insignificance to one of the leading schools in the country. There is no line of church work with which he is not intimately acquainted, his training being one in which, because of growth, and the magnitude it reached, carried him over the whole field of church methods. I cannot imagine how one could be better prepared for a work such as he has undertaken."

GIDEONS RELIGIOUS TRAVELING SALESMEN

The Gideons is an organization of religious traveling salesmen. There are 4,000 active and 4,500 associate members. They uphold high standards of personal character, and make a special business of supplying hotels with the Bible, placing one in every room. And when they go abroad they take their religion with them—an example others would do well to follow.

All editorial matter used on this and the following page was prepared by A. J. Flowers, advance representative of the Flowers Evangelistic party, and Rev. B. A. Watson, assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church, South.

Watson to Seek Right to Preach

Application for admission into the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, will be made before the annual Texas Conference, meeting in Mt. Pleasant, November 10, by Rev. B. A. Watson, who is now acting as pastor's assistant for the First M. E. church, South, here; and Rev. E. L. Unger, of Port Arthur, who is serving as temporary supply for the Methodist church, at Voth, and the surrounding territory.

Return of Rev. V. A. Godbey, pastor of the First M. E. Church, South to Port Arthur has been requested by the official board of the church, and reports on finances and general conditions in the church, all making good showings, are being prepared for submission to the Texas Conference, church officers said.

Rev. Watson and Rev. Unger will file their applications for admission on trial, as is the rule with the Methodist church governing order, and after two years in itinerant work they may be regularly received into full connection as members of the conference, church officials pointed out.

2,500,000 MEMBERS IN M. E. CHURCH NOW

In 1900 the M. E. Church, South, had only 1,476,000 members, and 6,227 pastors in the regular work. In 1921 this number had increased to 7,842 regular pastors, and 2,450,000 members. The progress of the denomination has been rapid since 1921 and the denomination now has 2,500,000 members.

CHURCH CLAIMS BIG PUBLISHING HOUSE

The M. E. church, South, has one of the largest publishing enterprises in the United States. In 1922 the total sales of the publishing house, of all kinds of literature, reached the large sum of $2,146,265.00. No one can estimate the educational value of this literature, distributed in every section of the south.

First M. E. Church South Organized Here In 1902 With Rev. G. H. Hodge First Pastor

BIG GROWTH IN CHURCH IS SEEN

Over 1,000 Members Now Are On Rolls

The First M. E. church, South, for some time known as the "Trinity M. E. church, South," was organized October 28, 1902, with Rev. J. B. Sears presiding elder, and Rev. G. H. Hodge, who was a preacher, but not a member of the annual conference, acting as temporary supply. The first quarterly conference for the church was held November 26, 1902, just before the meeting of the annual conference, and the following stewards were elected:

Dr. P. Hardin, C. G. Gerber, S. E. Rogers, J. P. Baker, and F. A. Rogers. E. L. DuBose was also elected steward and recording steward. Dr. P. Hawkins was elected district steward, and DuBose was elected Sunday school superintendent. Forty persons joined the church as charter members, and at the ensuing annual conference Rev. F. M. Boyles, a brilliant young lawyer, who had given up his profession for the pulpit, was appointed as preacher in charge of the church.

No labors in Port Arthur, by any pastor of this church, have been more full of trials and perplexing problems than were his, but at the end of four years he left as a monument the church building at 836 Fifth street, which was used until last year, and he had a membership of 200 persons who were fast being united together and trained for work.

At the end of his pastorate Rev. C. A. Hepper, a much loved member of the annual conference, was sent here and did a good year's work, but was sent to Galveston at the end of a year.

Dr. V. A. Godbey, the present pastor of the church, had just completed four years of service at Beaumont, where he built the church which is now in use in that city, and he was made presiding elder of the district, with headquarters at Beaumont. Being much interested in the church at Port Arthur, he advised the presiding bishop, Warren A. Candler, to send Rev. Claude Simpson, who is now pastor at Wichita Falls, to this pastorate, and it was done accordingly. He remained but one year as pastor, but built the parsonage which is yet the pastor's home, but which was moved from its former site last year to 1340 Sixth street. The membership made an advance in numbers and efficiency under Dr. Simpson, and when Dr. George W. Davis, now of Dallas, was sent to follow him, he found a church in good working order for the stage of growth of the city and of the organization.

At the end of the year Dr. Davis left, but the church had received 90 members under his leadership and it continued to grow and prosper under the pastorate of Rev. H. C. Willis, Thos. G. Whitten, Chas. H. McClary, who died this year, and W. H. Crum, who went to his rest December 27, 1916, just after his removal to Naomg, Quebec as pastor. He had done a great work in this city, and left a record of the results on the books of the church which is yet valuable to the workers. Rev. S. S. McKenney, who is the present presiding elder, was sent to follow him in 1916 from the annual conference in November, and he had three years of progress under him the membership grew to 600. He was popular as a pastor in such degree that a request was made for his return to this city as pastor two years ago. The congregation was much pleased last year when he was made presiding elder of the district.

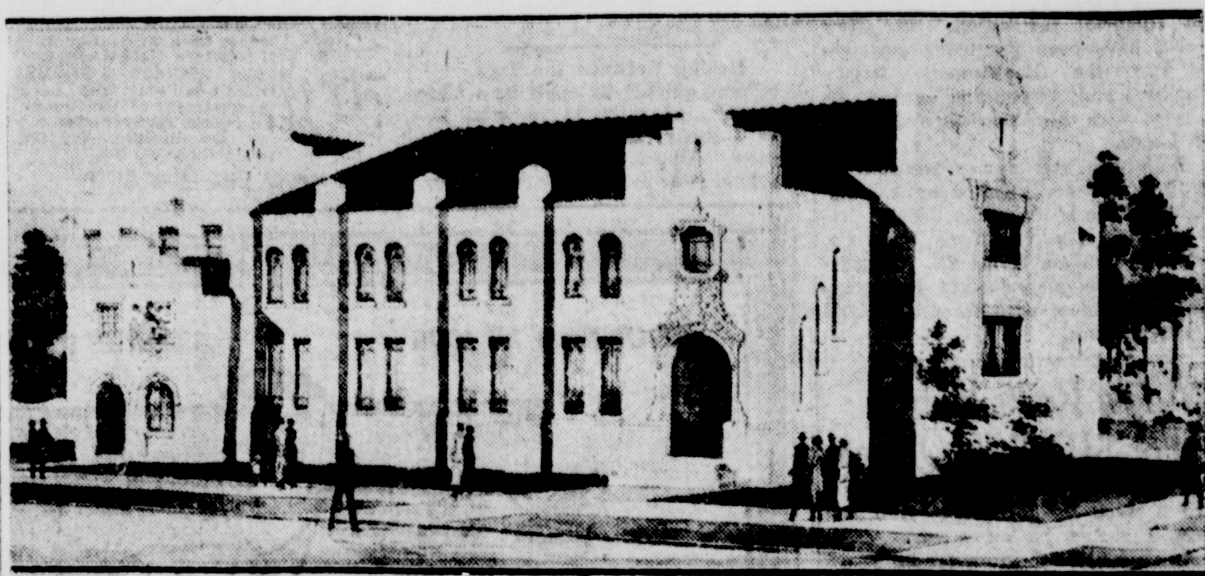

Following Dr. McKenney Rev. P. T. Ramsey was sent as pastor, and at the end of two years the church again showed a record of progress in numbers and achievement. The present unfinished church building was begun near the end of his pastorate, and most of the features in the building which now stands were adopted under his leadership.

Two years ago he was moved to Huntsville, Texas, and Dr. Godbey was sent to carry on the work. During the two years past, the church has continued to make progress. About 875,000 has been raised for various purposes, and nearly 500 members have been received into the church.

Rev. W. W. Watts, whose term as presiding elder closed last year, together with some of the local church officials, were largely responsible for the appointment of the present pastor, and an effort had failed to secure the return of S. S. McKenney, but since the church has gone forward, and both Dr. McKenney and Dr. Godbey have many friends in the city, the present combination is declared to be satisfactory.

Rev. B. C. Goens came as assistant pastor last year and at the end of the year he was sent to Lot and Chil-

An architectural drawing of the First Methodist church, south, depicting the institution as it will appear when completed. Considerable strides have been made toward completion of the church under the leadership of Dr. V. A. Godbey, present pastor. The church was the first in the State of Texas to have a roof garden included in its original plans, and is now one of two in the entire state, the second having been completed recently in Austin. The roof garden of the Methodist church is the center of many community meetings in Port Arthur.

CHURCH MOVE BEGAN IN 1739

Wesley and Foet Brother Methodist Founders

The Methodist movement in the world dates from A. D. 1739, having its beginning under Rev. John Wesley, M. A., his brother Charles, who was a preacher and poet, and who devoted most of his time to hymn writing. It is said that Charles Wesley wrote more than 6,000 hymns which attained popular favor, and nearly 3,000 of them yet survive and are in use in hymn books of the churches.

Rev. George Whitefield, who was the evangelist of the party, was said to be a man of pleasing personality, almost irresistible as an orator, and combined in his message the human notes, and the lofty ideals of Christianity. Rev. John Fletcher, a devout and earnest scholar, wrote many helpful pamphlets and books which gave light and steadiness to the movement. Adam Clark at a later period wrote a great commentary on the old and new Testament which became the standard authority among the Methodists, and retained its hold as the supreme authority as such, for over a hundred years.

Rev. John Wesley, the founder, was a tire scholar, and during his life time published about 75 publications which had a wide circulation. His writings covered a variety of subjects, and while having religion as their supreme purpose, many of them were humanitarian and cultural. John Wesley believed that it was the function of religion to save the race, including mental, physical and moral salvation, and he directed his writings and activities to attain this end. It was to be expected, therefore, that he would proceed to found schools, circulate books on various subjects, establish agencies which sought to preserve and safeguard public health, and to relieve economic injustice. He gave the largest and most all-inclusive interpretation of religion that had ever been given until his day.

David Lloyd George recently paid a glowing tribute to John Wesley, who, he said, was unquestionably the greatest religious leader ever produced by the Anglo-Saxon race. The address was delivered at a luncheon given by Sir Kingsley Wood at the Victoria Hotel, London, in behalf of the fund for the rehabilitation of Wesley's Chapel.

ton as pastor and Mrs. W. H. Crum, widow of the former pastor, was elected by the officials to act as pastor's general assistant, in which position she has rendered splendid service.

Last June, Rev. B. A. Watson, A. B., who had been a teacher in the city high school, agreed to act as pastor's assistant, and he has since that time filled this position with unusual efficiency and has made a wide circle of friends in the church and in the city. The church now has about 1,000 members and its housing conditions are more ample, even if the building is unfinished. There are about 1,000 Sunday school members on roll, and an effort will be made to increase the enrollment and the average attendance at Sunday school during this revival campaign which the Flowers evangelistic party leads. The church is going in strong for this movement, and confidently expects a great advance in all departments of church work as well as in numbers.

'NOTS' WORKED OUT FOR CLASS

Sunday School Real Place, Says Specialist

In conjunction with his campaign among the Sunday school classes of the First Methodist church, south, which he will conduct here during the revival starting at the institution Sunday, A. J. Flowers, class specialist, has worked out a schedule of "nots" which he will advocate during the meeting.

The list follows:
The Sunday school—
Is not a physical nursery for the relief of tired nurses.
It is not a place to unload parental responsibility.

It is not a place for ignorant or careless teachers.

It is not a place to bestow complimentary offices on those who will not do anything else.

It is not a place for laybones to lie on a cushion.

It is not a substitute for home training, the preaching service, nor a rival for either.

It is not a place to exhibit any part of the superintendent, except his heart, guided by wisdom of his head.

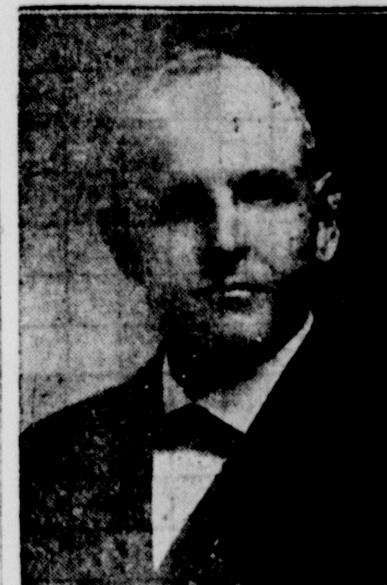

It is not a platform of scolding and fussing, but a place for the law of kindness to have right of way.

It is not a place for little children only.

It is not a place for teaching little surface things, but the deep basal truths of God's holy book.

It is not a place to experiment as to how little we can do, and how much God can make out of it, but rather, how near we can exhaust our commonplaces, but affords an opportunity to bring forth treasures new and old, as the result of excursions into many fields.

We should be grateful with success in our work, but NOT until every one under our hands is brought under the touch of His healing hand.

CENTENARY CAMPAIGN FINANCIAL SUCCESS

The Centenary campaign of American Methodism was the first financial campaign of large proportions attempted by any church. It set the pace. Other denominations immediately followed. It has been estimated that more than 60 American denominations, inspired by the Centenary, have carried through campaigns which have resulted in raising more than $800,000,000 for various Christian causes.

The famous old Methodist church in New York City, known as "John Street Church," was built in 1788.

Many Foreigners in M. E. Church Territory

In the territory of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, there are 200,000 Mexicans, 211,000 Italians, and 7,000 Cubans, all of whom are foreign to our ideals and most of whom are foreign born. The churches are working to enlighten this mass and in doing so they are doing a patriotic work.

MANY M. E. SCHOOLS IN FOREIGN FIELDS

The M. E. church south has almost as many secondary schools and colleges in the foreign field as it has in the home lands, and the influence of these schools is a powerful factor in bringing about world peace and normal commercial relations.

The first Methodist meeting house in America was erected about 1764 at San's Creek, Maryland.

Evangelist Impulse Followed Centenary Move Through Land

The Centenary has always stressed spiritual resources. In all the foreign fields, especially in Japan, Korea and Czechoslovakia the Centenary movement has been responsible for a great evangelistic impulse. In Mexico it has doubled membership. In Korea Centenary preaching bands have won 11,000 people. In Czechoslovakia the great revival has won 7,000 members for the M. E. Church, South, and more than 5,000 have been won in Siberia and Manchuria.

M. E. CHURCH SCHOOLS CLAIM OVER 2,000,000

The Sunday schools of the M. E. church, South, now have over 2,000,000 members in classes, and acting as officers and teachers. The denomination has a campaign on to add 250,000 pupils during the next three months. The First M. E. church, South, in this city is undertaking to add 500 during this period, and every Sunday shows progress toward the goal. The maximum attendance in classes this year has been 700, but a much larger number has been enrolled.

Big Percentage Gain Found in Churches

No less authority than Dr. Frank Crane tells us that in 1890 the population of the United States was about 63,000,000 and the church membership about 21,000,000, but in 1922, while the population had increased to 108,000,000, the church membership had increased to 47,000,000. That is, the increase in population has been 68 per cent, but the increase in church membership has been 118 per cent. Thus it will be seen that the church makes a large appeal to the nation. When it is remembered that the membership list of all protestant churches includes only persons who are old enough to assume the church covenants, and younger members of the family are under religious influence in some degree at least, although not included in the list of members, it is evident that not less than 2-3 of the people of this nation are directly interested in the church.

14 ORPHANS HOMES CONDUCTED BY CHURCH

The M. E. Church, South, has 14 orphan's homes in the United States and a large number in foreign lands. European nations have found the work of this church of great value in their poverty and desolation.

Evangelist Flowers is Welcome

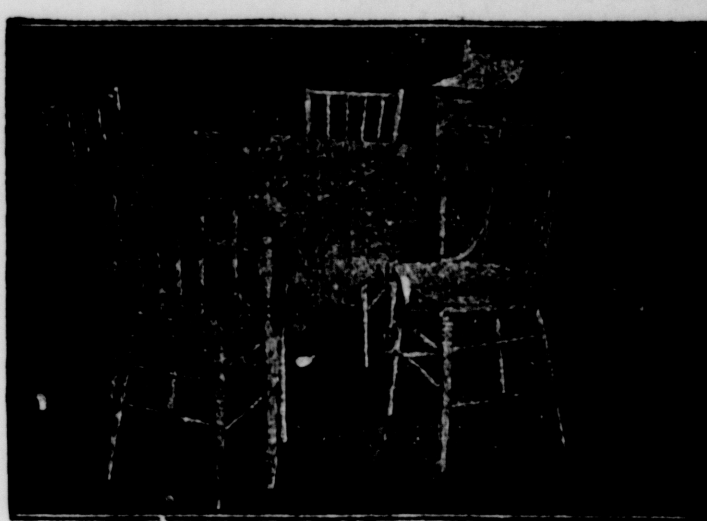

Churches are the spiritual milestone of civilization. Without them and their influence, nations would crumble back to dust and disappear. Think of them in the aggregate—all the churches in this fertile country—and there looms on the horizon a great, luminous citadel of God, profoundly beautiful and steadfast.

There is within every human breast, the inexorable call to Church. Sooner or later, the heart turns to wise doctrines and the ministering solace of Religion. It is invincible when everything else fails. It is the trust of all friends. It is immortal.

Attend church regularly... join in the songs and kneel in reverent prayer. The swiftly moving world, pell-mell in flight, needs now more than ever these benevolent, calm influences. Is there a sweeter sound than the bells which toll on Sabbath Day—the voice of the Great Comforter, calling.

ONTARIO DRY AFTER BALLOT

Majority of 40,000 Votes
Against Whisky

OTTAWA, Oct. 24.—The province of Ontario remains dry by a majority expected to reach 40,000 when all returns from outlying districts are tabulated.

At an early hour today, the vote stood:

For continuance of the temperance act, 491,200.

For sale of liquor under government control, 450,000.

The cities, especially Ottawa, voted heavily to substitute government control for prohibition, but the rural districts upset this majority and turned the tie to the drys.

"REVELATION"

"Revelation" at the Peoples theatre is claimed to be one of the finest pictures of the season.

The story of the little Parisian model who won her soul back through the gentle influence of posing as the Madonna, makes good screen material, with its swift action and vivid romance.

The picture has an all-star cast that includes Viola Dana, Monte Blue, Lee Cody, Marjorie Daw, Frank Currier, Edward Connelley, George Siegmann, Kathleen Key, Otto Matieson, Bruce Guerin, and Ethel Wales.

"NEVER SAY DIE"

"I have good news for you. You're going to marry 'Woody' so he can die and leave us all his money."

But she didn't want to marry him because she had never seen him in all her life—and then suppose he didn't die after all? That is just what has happened in this unusual and thrilling comedy-love-story which is Douglas MacLean's forth-coming starring picture, "Never Say Die" now playing at the Cameo theatre.

Douglas consents to marry the girl and then keeps on living in spite of himself and a host of medical men who had pronounced him on the verge of death. Then his wife falls in love with him and a score or more difficulties follow. The picture ends in a whirlwind of breath-taking surprises.

BEST DRESSED GIRL

NOW LIVING IN ATTIC

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—America's best dressed girl is living in an attic tenement.

She is Letitia Marvin, winner of the national competition at Atlantic City for the "Best dressed" title. The fact of her attic residence now was brought out in court when she won against her divorced husband's effort to get their boy away from her.

Letitia Marvin, garbed in sumptuous clothing furnished by a Boston store, received a diamond wrist watch as prize when she secured the national title in 1923. No similar competition has been held since. So she still holds the title.

GREEK CENSUS SHOWS

500,000 HOMELESS

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 24.—A refugee census, just completed here, is summarized in a report by Mr. Negr East Relief. It shows that 500,000 refugees "are still waiting and clamoring for prompt assistance." The report states the measures taken to cope with this problem and estimates that a total expenditure of $50,000,000 by the Greek government will be necessary. All charitable organizations are urged to increase their contributions to assist these unfortunate people.

"There's No Doubt

About It—

KARNAK

Actually Saved My Life," Declares Well Known Waco Man

"Yes, sir, I believe Karnak is all that ever pulled me through, and I'll praise it as long as I live," is the emphatic statement made by J. A. Abischier, 531 S. Fifth street, Waco, Texas, in his unqualified endorsement of Andre's celebrated new medicine which has created such a profound impression throughout Texas. For ten years Mr. Abischier carried the mail on the first rural route to run out of Waco, and he numbers his friends by the scores.

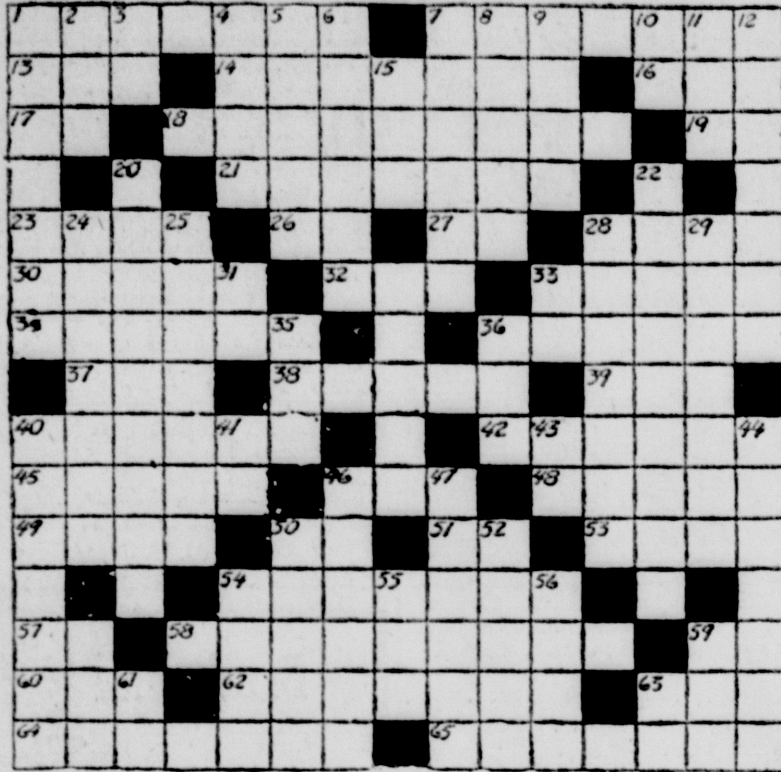

"I had become so weak from stomach suffering that I couldn't walk half a dozen blocks," continued Mr. Abischier. "I didn't have any appetite at all, and what little I ate lodged right in the pit of my stomach and caused such terrible pain I could hardly stand it. My stomach just seemed as sore as a boil and I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes."

Two weeks before I began taking Karnak I had lost twelve pounds in weight and was getting mighty worried over my condition. "Two friends of mine told me about Karnak and just begged me to try it, so I went down and got a bottle and, as I said before, I really believe this medicine saved my life. I have taken two bottles now and can eat anything set before me, and my stomach doesn't bother me a bit. All the soreness and pain is gone, my digestion seems perfect, and I can do a good day's work again without feeling any the worse for it. Karnak is the greatest medicine ever made, and nothing I can say is half good enough for it."

Karnak is sold in Port Arthur by Hart Drug Co., and the Service Drug Co. In Nederland by the Nederland Pharmacy, and in Port Neches by the Port Neches Drug Co.—Adv.

Riot Follows Killing Of Manila Chinese

MANILA, Oct. 23.—Thirteen Chinese and five Filipinos have been wounded following the killing of Cheng Sui, a Chinese merchant, by a Filipino. There have been more than 500 arrests since Saturday. The constabulary has been aiding the police and a battalion of Philippine scouts is being held in readiness at Fort McKinley, near Manila, should more serious disorders occur. It is feared the rioting will spread to the provinces.

MOVIE ACTOR DROWNS

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 24.—William Harbrough, 35, stunt man for the Thomas H. Ince company, was drowned in the Colorado river at Yuma Sunday during the filming of a western picture. Harbrough was swept down stream when flood waters were released to carry out the realism of the production.

Gotham Banks Let Employees Join Union

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—More than 30,000 "white collar" workers in the financial district, comprising the clerical staffs of three of the great financial institutions in New York, have been granted permission to join the Bookkeepers, Stenographers and Accountants' union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Both men and women workers in Wall street are affected by the decision of the heads of the Federal Reserve bank, the New York Trust Co. and the Bankers' Trust Co. to recognize their employees' right to organize and affiliate with other hand and brain workers.

Yellowjackets to See Beaumont-South Park Friday

EFFORTS FAIL TO SIGN GAME FOR SATURDAY

Houston Central Next On P. A. Calling List

DESPERATE efforts all day yesterday to arrange a game for the Yellowjackets tomorrow, following the forfeit by Galveston, failed to bring results, all teams queried replying they already had games scheduled for Saturday.

As a result, there will be no game for Coach Smith's boys this week. Houston Central will be the next opponent, the locals journeying over to the bayou city next week. The team will go over on Friday, while the rooters will probably follow early Saturday morning. The high school game will be played in the morning, while all Houston will be played in the morning, while all Houston will take Saturday afternoon off to see the Texas Longhorns meet the Rice Owls.

Many Port Arthur football fans are expected to take advantage of the double attraction and go to Houston for the day.

No Hope Basis Promised

No practice will be held this afternoon at the high school, Coaches Smith, Hanna and Sandefur assembling their crew of 40-odd boys for a trip to Beaumont to see the Beaumont high-South Park game. The game will be played at Magnolia park, starting at 3:30. Quarters will be slightly shortened, reports from Beaumont say, in order that the game will be finished by a reasonable hour.

While Port Arthur has met South Park here, winning 47 to 0, today's game at Beaumont will hardly be a fair basis of comparison. South Park probably has shown some improvement since playing here, and Beaumont high will hardly be playing at top form. Coach Dimmitt is not likely to extend his team to run up any great scores against Phil's bunch. South Park will be heavily outweighed, but nevertheless the S. Park boys have no great love for Beaumont high and there may be a tough fight. However, there is scarcely a chance for anything except a worse than decisive beating for South Park.

Today's lineups:

Beaumont	Po.	South Park
Stephenson	q.	Trinkle
Jiles	h.	Trinkle
Plummer	h.	Tatum
Baker	c.	Tucker
McArthur	g.	Rav
Johnson	g.	York

Referee—Barnes (South Carolina). Umpire—Cheesman (Virginia). Head line-man—Morrison (Trinity).

Two College Games On Today's Schedule

College football today is very short. Not a conference team has a game slated today, all playing tomorrow, while only two games are scheduled in the F. I. A. A.

Today's games are between Daniel Baker and St. Edwards at Brown, Tex., Trinity and Southwestern at Waxahatchie. Both are good games in their way and should be right, but are not important. Daniel Baker was only defeated 13-12 by T. C. U. a couple of weeks ago, while St. Edwards decisively whipped the San Marcos Teachers last week 20 to 0. San Marcos will be remembered as the team that defeated Rice last year. Southwestern should finally come through with a victory today after having lost to Texas, A. & M., Rice and Howard Payne.

Tomorrow's conference games are: Texas A. & M. vs. S. M. U. at Dallas; Rice vs. T. C. U. at Fort Worth; Texas vs. Florida at Austin; Baylor vs. Austin college at Waco; Oklahoma A. & M. vs. Phillips at Stillwater; Okla. A. & M. vs. Mississippi at Little Rock.

Probably Red Grange Will Be Named Mayor

WHEATON, Ill., Oct. 24.—To perpetuate the fame of "Red" Grange, Illinois' halfback, it has been suggested to change the name of this place his home town, to "Grangeville." A petition is in circulation to name the new athletic field "Grangefield."

ILLINI DRILL SIGNALS

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 24.—A long signal drill constituted the final drill of the Illini football team today. Dick Hall, the big tackle, is still an invalid. Zupke spent considerable time showing the line how to shift.

MINNESTANS GLOOMY

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 24.—A patched up Minnesota team left last night for Cedar Rapids for the Iowa struggle Saturday at Iowa City. Gloom dominated the mental workings of the squad due to absence of several regulars because of injuries.

NOTRE DAME BOYS STIFF

ASBURY, N. J., Oct. 24.—Notre Dame's grid team was to work out on the Polo grounds of the Deal Country club here this afternoon in final preparation for the tilt with Princeton at Palmer stadium tomorrow. The team is bumped and bruised.

HARVARD WORKS HARD

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 24.—The Harvard varsity was stopped only by darkness after three hours of hard drilling on defensive tactics in preparation for the Dartmouth game. There was no scrimmaging.

Wildcat Ewing Here For Athletic Club's Big Smoker Tonight

Jimmy Guest of Mexico Also To Be Seen at 8:30 Tonight

Wildcat Ewing's back in Port Arthur. To the sport fans, that means only one thing—that there will be a hot time in the old town tonight.

Ewing, who hails from Houston, is here again for the first time in about two months, and will make an appearance before the membership of the Port Arthur Athletic club tonight. His opponent in one of the events of a scheduled boxing exhibition will be Jimmy Guest. Although Guest is a stranger to Port Arthur, the reports on him are that he has been on a tour through Old Mexico meeting the best of the boys.

Tonight's affair, which will be an athletic smoker featuring by boxing will consist of several affairs, of which the Ewing-Guest exhibition will be the highlight event. The program will begin at 8:30.

The athletic club's headquarters have been remodeled, entirely new fixtures installed, and the new club is hardly recognizable in comparison with the place of last summer.

Golf AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

USE LIGHT CLUBS.

YOU CAN GET STRAIGHTER, LONGER BALLS WITH THEM.

Sh. 1 women use light or heavy clubs?

By GLENN COLLETT

Women should use light clubs, for no other reason than that most women have not the strength to use heavy ones. A light club can be swung much faster and easier, thus enabling you to get a straighter, longer ball. With a heavy club you are liable to top or shank a shot simply because you cannot get a club head to the ball fast enough and your body will be away ahead of the shot. A light masher or mashie will hit firmly will put as much back spin in a pitch shot to a green as any grooved club. Don't press an iron—it's much easier to play a mashie from lightly than a mashie that has to be forced.

Latimer Offers Cup For Best P. A. Dog

Sam Latimer is offering a silver cup for the best dog of any class to be shown by a Port Arthur fancier at the South Texas state fair at Beaumont, November 20, 21 and 22, according to reports from Beaumont.

Latimer claims Port Arthur has more good dogs than any place in Texas and that the port city's canine aristocrats will easily romp off with the honors at Beaumont's fair.

Billy Evans Says—

Who Won Game? Series Dispute Consider Fair Play Zachary Gets Dues

The second game of the world series raised a point in scoring that has already caused a lot of discussion.

Washington won the game 4 to 3. Marberry as relief pitcher was first credited with the victory. Later it was given to the original starter, Zachary.

It will be recalled that Zachary had brilliantly in the second game until the final inning.

Going into the ninth inning with a 3 to 1 lead, the Giants tied up the score. With two out and a runner on second, Marberry was sent in to finish the game.

Marberry proceeded to strike Jackson on three pitches balls. Washington put over the winning run in the last act of the ninth.

A. the crowd filed out of the park the general impression was that Marberry had won the game. The official scorers of the series were of that opinion. Some of the experts in their scores played in the fact that Marberry won a ball game on three pitches.

The day following the game the score decided that the ruling was rather unjust to Zachary and switched back to him.

Under that ruling Zachary was credited with a game in which he had lost. Identity by being removed in favor of Marberry.

Since a close of the series I have received scores of inquiries relative to the final decision in awarding the victory to Zachary, a player no longer in the line.

Fair play must be the basis for everything that is right in sport. Fair play to Zachary caused the scorers to reverse their original ruling in favor of Zachary.

If a New York batter had hit safely, scoring the runner on second after Marberry had entered the game Zachary would have been charged with no defeat, since he put the winning run on that base.

Thus Zachary technically never had a chance to win the game after being relieved by Marberry, but so a have been charged with the fact that had the runner on second when he retired from the game scored the winning run.

In a sense such a situation is manifestly unfair. After pitching eight and two-thirds innings, if the scoring rule was strictly followed Zachary had no chance for a victory.

OHIO DESPAIRS OF CHANCE IN CHICAGO GAME

Stagg and Wilce Affect Dobie's Stuff

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 24.—Primed to their best for the biggest game of the western conference tomorrow, the Ohio State and University of Chicago eleven took a final workout in the big stadium here today. The Chicago eleven arrived this morning and established headquarters in the city while the Ohio State squad retired to a country place to be reformed from the bustle of campus activity.

Columbus was rather gloomy about the chances of the Ohio eleven to keep its record clean and remain in the running for the conference championship.

Ohio Defense Great

While there was a feeling around the campus that the team had a chance to win, it was taken almost for granted that it would be next to impossible to keep Chicago from crossing a goal line that has been untouched in two seasons.

Both coaches affected the gloom of expression that has been patented by Gil Dobie, the worn Cornell coach who always predicts that his team will lose every game by 20 points.

"I don't know what Chicago can do. The team hasn't been tested," Coach Stagg reported when he arrived this morning with his squad. "Ohio State is not in the best of condition. I don't know what to expect." Coach Wilce said.

The feeling exists that Ohio has a great defense, perhaps the best of any conference team but that its offense is nothing to make the boys over-confident.

Crowd of 50,000 Coming

A crowd of 50,000 is expected in the big stadium to see the battle that may eliminate from the running one of the teams that are tied for first place.

Weather conditions were threatening this morning. Gray skies hung over the city and shielded what little sun there might have been behind the blankets. The forecasters promised fair weather for tomorrow, however.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 24.—Tad Jones put his regular through a long practice against the forward pass at Yale today. Jones is expected to use Saturday. Root, star tackle, injured in scrimmage, will be able to start Jones said.

PRINCETON SAYS READY

PRINCETON, Oct. 24.—The Tigers went through their final practice today before the Notre Dame game, special stress being given to the individual position play of each man and building the defense for an expected aerial attack.

The decision was a "just and proper one but killed many a lead story how Marberry threw three pitches won a world series game. Incidentally it puzzled fans how a pitcher could receive credit for a game after having pitched from the lineup.

ROME, Oct. 24.—Emilio Spalla, Italian heavyweight, has challenged Jack Dempsey for a championship fight through the European boxing federation.

McVey, Rice Tackle, Out of T. C. U. Game With Measles Attack

FORT WORTH, Oct. 24.—Light practice was ordered by Coach Bell for the Horned Frogs here today in preparation for the Rice institute invasion Saturday.

WACO, Oct. 24.—Baylor University meets Austin College here Saturday in an out-of-conference game.

HOUSTON, Oct. 24.—Headed by Coach Helaman, 22, Rice institute gridgers left Houston last night for Fort Worth where they meet T. C. U. Saturday. McVey, star tackle, ill with measles, was the only varsity player missing.

AUSTIN, Oct. 24.—Two practice pads were ordered by Coach Van Fleet for his Florida Alligators here today after their 2,000 mile trip for the inter-sectional clash with the Texas Longhorns Saturday. The Floridians arrived here last night. Tapering off practice was scheduled for the Longhorns today.

DALLAS, Oct. 24.—The Texas Aggies were expected to reach here today for the Saturday game with Southern Methodist University as the closing feature of the Texas state fair.

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 24.—A. M. students voted to retain the name "Aggies" for their football squad last night. A move had been made to change their title to "Cow boys."

CISCO TO PLAY BRECKENRIDGE

Many New Teams Now In State Race

Several rather important high school football games are in line over Texas this week, among which are games between Waco and Corsicana, Cisco and Breckenridge, Comanche and San Angelo.

Waco is primed for a victory over Corsicana Friday and is looking ahead for a real fight against Waxahatchie next week. Cisco, the team that trimmed Abilene last week 6-3, goes against Breckenridge Friday as the favorite. Breckenridge is being coached by B. E. Conn, former Rice man, and is out to take the district title from the Lobos, coached by Chapman. The Comanche-San Angelo game Saturday will probably decide the district title and some unexpected power for other contenders may spring forth here. Comanche played Abilene in 1918 for the state title and in 1919, when coached by Freeland, now of S. M. U. did not lose a game. For the last several years Comanche has always been a strong team out in west Texas.

Perhaps the most outstanding teams over north and west Texas now are Vernon, Cisco, Forest high of Dallas, Waco and Waxahatchie. Down at San Antonio Monday a tight game will be played between Breckenridge of San Antonio and Austin, coached by Bobby Cannon and Bobby Robertson respectively.

Tuohy Falls Easily Before Tough Tony Two Out of Three

Oratory On Hot Matches to Come Proves Headline Of Evening

Tough Tony Bernardi had little trouble last night in disposing of Vic Tuohy on the Elks theater mat, downing the young Bostonian twice in three attempts in 53 minutes of wrestling time. Tuohy took the second fall in five minutes with what was claimed to be a head hammer lock, although Tuohy was quite certain his shoulders had not been pinned to the mat.

Bernardi took the first fall in 32 minutes with a rocking scissor, and the third fall came easily when Bernardi pulled a "Paul Jones" on Tuohy in 21 minutes. Tuohy was thrown to the floor on his back, knocked unconscious, and it was all over.

Referees Switched

The superiority of Bernardi was obvious, and Tuohy had little chance of ever coming through, although he put up a decidedly game scrap against the "Gas House Wop."

After the fall gained by Tuohy Bernardi walked over to his corner with an expression of contempt for the referee's decision written over his face. The pudgy Julius Sigel, who was handling Tuohy's end in the match, made his way across the mat looking for another referee in place of Wildcat Ewing. "Get Budwine," yelled the crowd, and Budwine it was. Budwine, local wrestler, refereed the last fall.

After the match Bernardi delivered a few oratorical smashes to the crowd. Jimmy Stewart had been introduced to the crowd as the next opponent of the winner of last night's match, and Bernardi told the crowd from the ringside after the match that he would meet Stewart November 2 for a purse consisting of the gate receipts, and $100 paid by each grappler, winner to take all.

Challenge for Jones

Not to be outdone by the splendor of Bernardi's words, Sigel took the rostrum and announced he would bring Paul Jones over for the match and let him meet any ten Port Arthur men on the mat. If any one of the ten men throws Jones, Sigel promised to give the winner $100.

The crowd whooped a few braves, and Bernardi went the spectators one better when he added "That goes for Paul Jones, too," referring to the proposition tendered Stewart.

Special Train Service For Turkey Day Game

For the annual game between A. & M. and Texas University in Austin Thanksgiving Day, the Southern Pacific announces special train service for the occasion, and will provide through coaches, tourist Pullmans and Standard Pullmans from Houston, starting on November 28th. On return trip special trains will be operated from Austin to reach Beaumont at 5:45 a. m. November 28th, which will enable every one to reach Port Arthur by 7 a. m.

Pullmans will be set out at Beaumont and may be occupied until 7:30 a. m. Round trip railroad fare from Beaumont $11.50. Call 3000 for Pullman reservations going or returning.

HOUSTON, Oct. 24.—Headed by Coach Helaman, 22, Rice institute gridgers left Houston last night for Fort Worth where they meet T. C. U. Saturday. McVey, star tackle, ill with measles, was the only varsity player missing.

AUSTIN, Oct. 24.—Two practice pads were ordered by Coach Van Fleet for his Florida Alligators here today after their 2,000 mile trip for the inter-sectional clash with the Texas Longhorns Saturday. The Floridians arrived here last night. Tapering off practice was scheduled for the Longhorns today.

DALLAS, Oct. 24.—The Texas Aggies were expected to reach here today for the Saturday game with Southern Methodist University as the closing feature of the Texas state fair.

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 24.—A. M. students voted to retain the name "Aggies" for their football squad last night. A move had been made to change their title to "Cow boys."

CISCO TO PLAY BRECKENRIDGE

Many New Teams Now In State Race

Several rather important high school football games are in line over Texas this week, among which are games between Waco and Corsicana, Cisco and Breckenridge, Comanche and San Angelo.

Waco is primed for a victory over Corsicana Friday and is looking ahead for a real fight against Waxahatchie next week. Cisco, the team that trimmed Abilene last week 6-3, goes against Breckenridge Friday as the favorite. Breckenridge is being coached by B. E. Conn, former Rice man, and is out to take the district title from the Lobos, coached by Chapman. The Comanche-San Angelo game Saturday will probably decide the district title and some unexpected power for other contenders may spring forth here. Comanche played Abilene in 1918 for the state title and in 1919, when coached by Freeland, now of S. M. U. did not lose a game. For the last several years Comanche has always been a strong team out in west Texas.

Perhaps the most outstanding teams over north and west Texas now are Vernon, Cisco, Forest high of Dallas, Waco and Waxahatchie. Down at San Antonio Monday a tight game will be played between Breckenridge of San Antonio and Austin, coached by Bobby Cannon and Bobby Robertson respectively.

STEGER NOW AT QUARTER

ANN ARBOR, Oct. 24.—Futuristic smoothie again after its recent victory, Michigan ran through the freshmen who used Wisconsin plays in decisive style. The coaches were particularly pleased with Steger's play at quarter.

DEMPSEY CHALLENGED

ROME, Oct. 24.—Emilio Spalla, Italian heavyweight, has challenged Jack Dempsey for a championship fight through the European boxing federation.

McVey, Rice Tackle, Out of T. C. U. Game With Measles Attack

FORT WORTH, Oct. 24.—Light practice was ordered by Coach Bell for the Horned Frogs here today in preparation for the Rice institute invasion Saturday.

WACO, Oct. 24.—Baylor University meets Austin College here Saturday in an out-of-conference game.

PICNIC LUNCH IN VOGUE YET

Move Out On Porch to Serve
Dinner

By HELEN DOWNING
Written For The News
During the months of hot weather many families make the evening meal a veritable picnic, and instead of its being served in the dining room, one end of the screened porch has been turned into use. The table and chairs are moved out there so that every bit of fresh air may be enjoyed.

In the summer most of our evening meals are picnics, one woman from Michigan wrote in, and so I get all my cooking done in the morning. When the boys come home we either set the table out in the yard under the trees or I it is not quite the ideal night for that the screened porch takes the place of the dining room.

Many nights we use paper cups, wooden plates, forks and spoons. This convenience does away with much hot dish washing, and the entire family are perfectly willing to use these substitutes, writes another friend who advocates outdoor dinners on hot days.

Thinking of something different to serve daily is no easy task these days. The markets offer many excellent selections, but the weather for the past few days seems to have gotten us, and we want our meals cool and quickly over with, it seems.

I am going to suggest something that I believe you and your family will enjoy, for your porch dinners:

Jellie Cheese
Meat Loaf, either Ham, Beef or Veal
Swedish Meat Rolls in Cabbage
A chafing dish of Welsh Rarebit
A casserole dish of Fish, Chicken, or Vegetables

Pickled Peaches, Sweet Pickles,
Olives and Celery

Plain Bread and Butter Sandwiches
Brown Bread and Butter

Pineapple and Cheese Salad
Thoroughly chilled salad of Cabbage,
Peppers, Tomatoes, Cucumbers,
Radishes and Dressing

Peaches and Cream
Raspberry Shortcake
Drop Bran Nut Cookies

Sugar Drop Cookies
Sponge Cake
Doughnuts (Pie (made in morning))

Tea—Coffee

If you have lights on your porch it is easy to have a connection or droplight so the percolator, toaster, or grill may be attached. The entire meal and all the table accessories can be put on a large tray and one or two trips at the most will take everything to the porch. This should include table linen, silver, glasses, plates, cups, saucers, salt, pepper, butter, salad dressing, condiments, ice water in vacuum bottle, or a big lump of ice in the pitcher, beverages, sugar and cream, bread, butter on ice, and then return with the tray for the foods to be served.

Ice cream from the nearby drug store, served with home made preserves, fresh fruit or hot home made fudge syrup, usually pleases father and the youngsters as much as anything.

Now I want to give you one recipe and that is for jellied cheese:

One egg, 3-4 cup cheese cut fine, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 1 cup boiled rice (cold), 1-3 cup minced celery, salt and paprika, 1 tablespoon gelatin soaked in 1-4 cup cold water, 1 cup milk, 1 tablespoon butter.

Heat the milk, pour it gradually over the beaten egg and cheese. Cook slowly in double boiler until mixture is thick and creamy. Remove from fire, add the gelatin, the rice and other ingredients. Turn into individual molds or mold, and slice for serving.

People who live in new suits should not open milk bottles with their thumbs.

A cow in the barn is worth two in the woods with a hunter.

BAKE AN ELECTION CAKE

By SISTER MARY

Perhaps you would like to keep open house the afternoon of election day or serve something to guests waiting for returns in the evening. What could be more in keeping with the occasion than old-fashioned election cake with coffee?

When our grandmothers baked this cake they could take all the time they wanted or needed for making elaborate cakes. Today we must bake our cakes between times as it were for the modern woman does her own voting and "trailing." So buy your raisins seeded and your citron shredded and your yeast compressed and use the precious time saved for something else, such as voting.

This recipe is in the nature of a "reproduction" for the "original" used pounds and ounces instead of cups and tablespoons. But one hundred years ago they weighed for accuracy rather than measured.

Election Cake
Six cups flour, 2 1/2 cups sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup butter, 3-4 cup lard, 2 cups milk, 3-4 cup yeast, 1 cup seeded raisins, 1 cup shredded citron, 1-2

PLAY WITH MATCHES COSTS CHILD'S LIFE

HOUSTON, Oct. 24.—"Don't play with matches," is the old slogan that parents tell their children, but Mary Trippie, 4 years old, daughter of John Trippie, did not heed the warning. She was playing with matches when fire ignited her scanty dress. She died a day after the affair happened.

SENTENCE OF MAYOR AND 51 AFFIRMED

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Sentences of 32 men in the famous Gary, Ind., liquor cases, were affirmed by the United States circuit court of appeals.

Among those whose sentences were affirmed are R. O. Johnson, former mayor of Gary, and Lewis E. Barnes, former sheriff of Lake county, Ind.

JURY FINDS WOMAN GUILTY OF MURDER

MIDDLEBURG, Fla., Oct. 24.—Mrs. Annie Willow, 35 years old, today was found guilty of murder in the second degree in connection with the slaying of her husband by Ralph Shadel, her 18-year-old lover last December, after the jury had deliberated five and one-half hours.

After a deer had charged an automobile driven by John Wotring on a Montana forest road, the deer was without horns and the car was minus a fender.

Old Fashioned Meet Held By Methodists

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 24.—Old-fashioned Methodist "amens" prevailed all over the hall last night as the two day session of the Methodist men's convention was concluded. William D. Upshaw, representative from Georgia, one of last night's speakers, declared that "America's mightiest task is not economic, industrial nor political. It is the proof our prohibition law was not a mistake in its concept and a failure in its enforcement."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS by Olive Roberts Bartol

Oh, look! cried Nancy, "there is someone beckoning to us from that apple tree."

"Yes," said Daddy Gander to the twins as they rode along through the sky on his magic dust-pan, "the tin rooster was right. There isn't any doubt that the Maiden-All-Forlorn and the Tattered Man have gone to housekeeping in the House That Jack Built."

"Oh, look!" cried Nancy. "There is someone beckoning to us from that apple tree. Let's stop and see who it is."

So Daddy Gander said "Whoa!" to his dust pan and it stopped in the tip-topmost branch of the apple-tree.

"Why, hello!" said Nick. "It's the apple-tree fairy who runs the elevator up to the sky."

"I'm glad you haven't forgotten me," said the apple-tree fairy. "I thought I heard someone talking about the House-That-Jack-Built. Was it you?"

"Do you know anything about it?" "Do I? Well, I should say so," remarked the apple-tree fairy. "I used to live in an apple-tree on Pip-pin Hill where Jack and Jill and Mrs. John live. Indeed, I was there when Jack built his house. I know all about it. It's got the cutest porch and—"

"Oh I mean do you know where it's gone?" asked Daddy Gander.

"It's lost," said the apple-tree fairy. "An's wings and snails horns!" cried the little fairy in surprise. "You don't say so?"

"Oh, yes," said Nancy. "It's gone and we're hunting for it. The tin rooster on the barn and Higgledy Piggledy, the black hen, said that they thought the Maiden-All-Forlorn and the Tattered Man had gone to housekeeping in it."

"I don't believe it," said the apple tree fairy. "They wouldn't do such a thing. Wait a minute! I've an idea. Was there a windstorm thereabouts when the house disappeared?"

"Not that I know of," said Daddy Gander. "But then it's pretty hard to tell sometimes. We never can be sure in Mother Goose Land whether it's a wind storm, Poppleton Hum, the miller man, snoring. Why?"

"I was just thinking," said the apple-tree fairy. "That up on the seventeenth floor of the sky there is a place called 'The Department of Lost Things.' It's for the wind-storm things."

"Whatever are you talking about?" cried Nick. "What wind-storm things?"

"Oh, pigs and baby-carts and hay-stacks and churns, and automobiles and houses and things like that, that blow away in tornadoes. A tornado is a wind-storm," said the apple-tree fairy. "They have to blow somewhere don't they? So they blow up to the seventeenth floor of the sky and we fairies sort them out. It's quite a village."

"But how could Jack's house be blown up like a kite with a tail. The tail comes along and—whisk! it can blow you right off the map and leave the person you were talking to without so much as pushing an eyelash out of place."

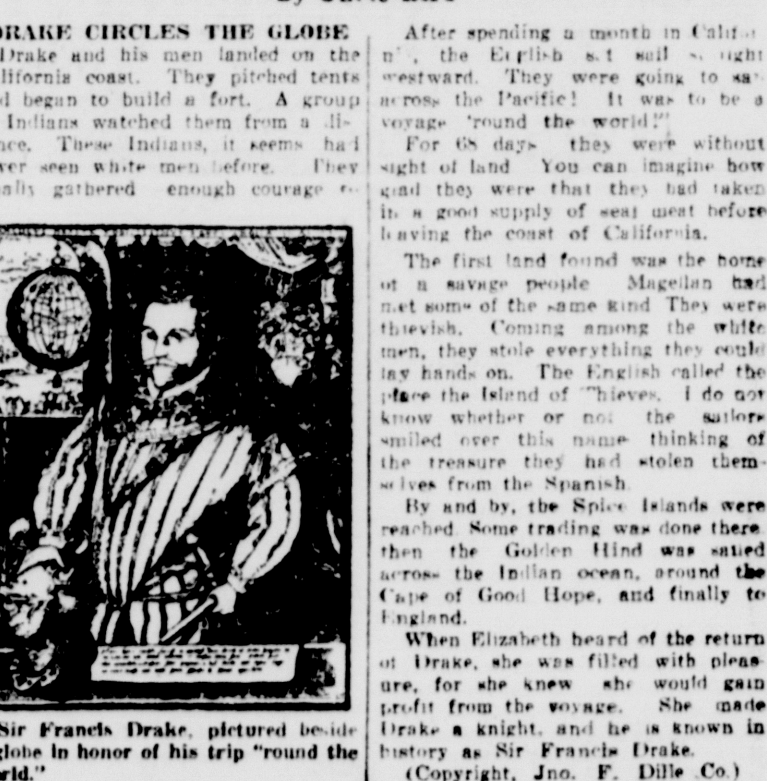

"Well, then," said Daddy Gander. "We'll go there at once and look."

"Just leave your magic dust-pan here," said the apple-tree fairy. "I'll run you up in my elevator as quick as Jack Robinson could wink his eye."

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Uncle RAY

DRAKE CIRCLES THE GLOBE. Drake and his men landed on the California coast. They pitched tents and began to build a fort. A group of Indians watched them from a distance. These Indians, it seems had never seen white men before. They finally gathered enough courage to come closer and make signs showing that they believed the visitors were gods.

Drake did not like to have them hold such an idea. He ordered his men to kneel and stretch their arms to heaven "to show where God was." The red men did not seem to understand. Every now and then, they cried, "Oh." This was taken to be a mark of worship. By and by, the Indians gave Drake a crown—or perhaps only a bonnet—of feathers.

When Elizabeth heard of the return of Drake, she was filled with pleasure, for she knew she would gain profit from the voyage. She made Drake a knight, and he is known in history as Sir Francis Drake.
